Brightening Up the Holidays in Cooper's Crossing: Christmas Lights Display

As the days grow shorter and the holiday spirit grows brighter, we're excited to announce the annual Christmas lights display will return to Cooper's Crossing this season! This cherished tradition, funded by the CCRA, continues to light up our community, spreading festive cheer and creating a magical winter wonderland for all to enjoy. Installation will kick off in late November, with Precise Pruning once again lending their expert touch to bring our trees and pathways to life.

Each year, our lights grace the trees and monuments where we have access to power, adding warmth to the cold winter nights. While some lights have begun to show signs of wear (and our trees have certainly grown taller!), Precise Pruning has recommended a few enhancements to keep the display as beautiful as ever. In addition to replacing worn-out lights, we'll be expanding the display to include five more spruce trees and upgrading to durable, commercial-grade lights.

For this holiday season, the total cost of installation, maintenance, and improvements is estimated at $11,605.15 plus GST. We know these enhancements are well worth the cost, bringing festive joy to residents and visitors alike.

While solar lighting was considered for this display, after careful trials and expert advice, we found they wouldn't deliver the brightness and reliability we're after. So, for now, we'll continue with our traditional setup, ensuring Cooper's Crossing shines brightly through the season.

Stay tuned for more updates as we light up our lovely neighborhood!

Happy holidays!
